Sing a Song of Sixpence

Sing a song of sixpence, a pocket full of rye;
Four and twenty Blackbirds baked in a pie.

When the pie was opened, the birds began to sing;
wasn't that a dainty dish to set before a King!